

SCENARIO INTRODUCTION

CARCERES

BY KHELREN

Carceres is a high security prison where the scum of the galaxy is sent: space pirates, dangerous lifeforms, criminal superbeings, and mad psions. There, prisoners endure the harshest of mistreatments and dream about getting their freedom back. But no one has ever escaped.

Even now, things are getting pretty rough. Inmates are on the verge of a riot and a mysterious evil organisation is plotting to infiltrate the prison.

FLOTSAM QUICKSTART

This document contains pre-generated Primary characters and Situations which you can use to play a game of Flotsam in a single session (3–4 hours), or to kickstart a campaign.

THIS PACK INCLUDES:

- Pre-generated Primary characters and Situations for this scenario
- The Teaching Guide and rules summary (optional tools for first time play)
- Threats sheet and Characters sheet / names list (optional)

MANDATORY ELEMENTS

For this scenario, the following characters and Situations are mandatory:

- Executioner – The Cast-off
- Hyperion Fox – The Spider
- Praetor Phoenix – The Sybyl
- The Above
- The Outside
- Poverty

RULES SUMMARY

1. THREATS AND WEAKNESSES

2. COMPLICATIONS AND STRENGTHS

SCENE STRUCTURE

Frame scene (who, where,
when, what happening)

Play through scene

Check for Display Heart (Primary and Secondary characters)

Repeat with new Focal Character

3. FRAMING SCENES

First:

— Is there anything that obviously, burningly must happen next?

Second:

For the current Focal Character, check in order:

- Does the Focal Character wish to accomplish something or interact with someone?
- Does the Focal Character want to activate a Weakness, or does a Situation player wish to do something with the Focal Character?
- Ask a question about the Focal Character's everyday life.

4. END OF SCENE

When you Display Your Heart, so that another character sees something of your true self or your heartfelt feelings, at the end of the scene, they say if any of the following apply:

- It changed your relationship with them
- It brought you closer together
- It pushed you further apart

If any of the above apply, you each may Mark your Relationship with the other.

When your Weakness causes trouble for you, at the end of the scene you may Mark your Weakness.

Check for any Playbook Moves you might have missed.

EXECUTIONER

THE CAST-OFF

Once, you were the most fearsome assassin in the whole galaxy, but you got old and soft. You started a family and the Society of Shadows used that very weakness to try to control you. Now you've been sent to Carceres, you'll be a target: the blood of every inmate's beloved ones is on your hands.

DESCRIPTORS

— Wary and gaunt face, fast and cybernetic hands, copper scaly skin.

SITREP

— You recognised one of the wardens as a known agent of the Society of Shadows. You know too many secrets about them; they won't let you spill the beans. Now, you fear imminent retribution. Obviously, the inmates may kill you first.

PRINCIPLES

— COMMUNITY AND INTERDEPENDENCE.

You rely for your livelihood on countless relationships. Customers. Patrons. And they rely on you. Explore those relationships and how you depend on each other.

— PRECARITY AND OPPORTUNITY. Explore how you cope with the hardship of living hand-to-mouth. Show how you respond to the opportunities that come your way.

STRENGTHS

- Fast hands
- Hacking
- Pilot

WEAKNESSES

■ PROBLEM: Haunted by old enemies.

■ FLAW: You're secretly soft-hearted.

RELATIONSHIPS

When you got there, you recognised HYPERION FOX to be from your long-estranged family. But acknowledging that publicly will risk their life. And you're not sure how they will react if you tell them the truth.

PHOENIX saved your life before and told you the future. But they didn't reveal everything or else you wouldn't be there. They may be a lying piece of garbage... or just another fool. You don't know if you can trust them.

HYPERRION FOX

THE SPIDER

You're a silver-tongued, daring, and roguish criminal and, if you dare say so, one of the best. No score is big enough or too risky. Carceres cannot keep you imprisoned, and you're going to become a legend: for the first time, someone is going to escape this dreaded place. You've been here for a while and you know everyone and everything about it. Time to get out!

DESCRIPTORS

— Calculating and smiling eyes, smug whispery voice, green freckled skin.

SITREP

— You plan to become the one who will managed to escape the station – but the guards and the inmates are watching constantly.

PRINCIPLES

- POWER AND CONTROL. It's a dog-eat-dog world. Think about how you stay on top. Think about how you keep people hooked.
- PRECARITY AND OPPORTUNITY. You might seem like you've got it made, but your success is fragile. Explore the risks and opportunities of your enterprise: show how close to the breadline you actually are.

STRENGTHS

- Debts owed to you [R]
- Connections (the Above) [R]
- Useful items (weapons, medical supplies, tech) [R]

WEAKNESSES

- PROBLEM: You owe favours to powerful inmates.
- FLAW: You are secretive and paranoid.

RELATIONSHIPS

You're certain that EXECUTIONER ("X" as you call them in a friendly attempt) has the necessary skills to help you escape. They're a pretty useful tool: you have to keep them alive at all cost.

You've shared a mind reading moment, you think, with PHOENIX and it was the best thing that ever happened to you: you know them like you've never known anyone before. It's hard to admit but you're totally infatuated.

PRAETOR PHOENIX

THE SYBYL

Being one of the most powerful psions in the galaxy, you bear a heavy burden. People secretly distrust you or openly despise you. All fear your strange gift because you've seen the dark corners of everyone's mind. You've heard the awful lies and the shameful secrets. Ironically, in solitary confinement, you've experienced tranquillity for the first time and since then, you desire to stay here.

DESCRIPTORS

— Distant eyes, delicate body, cool ivory skin.

SITREP

— The scientists hooked you up to a strange artifact, to unlock its full potential, and you barely survived. Now, you fear they're planning to come back for another experiment.

PRINCIPLES

- ISOLATION AND OTHERNESS. How do your powers set you apart from others? How have they changed your basic humanity? What about you can they never understand? What about them can you never grasp?
- MYSTERY AND SPIRITUALITY. Your unique nature puts you closer to the spirits than anyone. But do they love you?

STRENGTHS

- Chaos
- Dreamwalk
- Thoughtweave

WEAKNESSES

- PROBLEM: The superstitious hang on your every word.
- FLAW: You are tactless and indiscreet.

RELATIONSHIPS

You've sensed the fear of EXECUTIONER. A threat lurks above them. Otherwise, they're only thinking of their loved family. They are nobility among the scum, really.

You've shared a psychic bond with HYPERION FOX. You know their true self as they know yours. Their mind is a mess. They need strict guidance and focus.

MOONCRUSHER

THE DARK TITAN

THE THUNDER

You're a big giant purple hunk of muscles, always angry, the last survivor of your people. You were captured and sold as a gladiator but, after a century, you managed to free yourself, conquer the planet and become the king. It didn't last long though; the Galactic Corps made you step down.

DESCRIPTORS

— Hard face, hulking body, tattoos and scars.

SITREP

— This place can become your new kingdom and the inmates your new subjects. Here, strength is paramount and Carceres would be a good stronghold.

PRINCIPLES

- POWER AND CONTROL. Think about how you maintain control, where your grip is weak, and what you are willing to do to protect your rule.
- IDENTITY AND BELONGING. Think about what keeps your gang together. Their shared purpose. Their common culture and values.

STRENGTHS

- Authoritative and respected
- Intimidating
- Skilled warrior

WEAKNESSES

- FLAW: You are reckless and impulsive.
- FLAW: You are honourable and will never lie.

RELATIONSHIPS

PHOENIX adopted you after the death of your parents and treated you well. Even if they are strange and weak, you can't help but ponder their wise decisions.

EXECUTIONER is the hand of the Society of Shadows, an evil organisation. The Society slaughtered your people and you want revenge. But you want to cut the head, not the hand.

K'RINN J'ZAMM

THE HYBRID

When you came here, you were a criminal known to be gifted with superhuman talents, but nothing too unusual. This has changed because scientists experimented on you, time and time again, to the point where you were slowly losing your sense of identity and sanity.

DESCRIPTORS

— Smooth too-perfect face, penetrating unsettling gaze, mottled gold skin.

SITREP

— The scientists of Carceres used a strange artifact on you and you've been hearing the whispers of spirits since then. For them, the Apparatus is a sacrilege that needs to be destroyed.

PRINCIPLES

- IDENTITY AND BELONGING. Who are you, really? What makes you you? How do you relate to others? Can you ever really fit in? Who do you admire, which groups do you aspire to belong to?
- ISOLATION AND OTHERNESS. Explore your strange nature and shadowed past. How are you different from others? What deeds continue to haunt you? What about humans will you never understand?

STRENGTHS

- Inhuman physicality (strength, stamina)
- Shapeshifting
- Superhuman senses

WEAKNESSES

- FLAW: Your inhuman side has its own persona.
- FLAW: You don't understand your own limitations.

RELATIONSHIPS

You're very much like PHOENIX: a powerful being, burdened by their gifts. Being the only one able to understand you, you're worried about what the scientists did to them with the Apparatus.

You've defeated MOONCRUSHER once, not by brute force but by wits. Since then, they've been eager to ask you for advice. Between you two, you'd say there is respect and maybe even friendship.

The Above is what we call the upper decks and the people who live there. The ones with the identity papers, and the steady jobs. The ones with money and confidence. The ones whose trash makes its way down Below, and whose boots leave footprints on our lives, visible and invisible.

The Above is a mighty behemoth. It can crush individuals and communities as though they were bugs, intentionally or not. It is a capricious god, reacting suddenly and overwhelmingly. And yet, folk Below are utterly dependent on it.

- The wardens are maintaining their grip on Carceres with brutality and inequity, bullying and tormenting inmates whenever they can. Some are just blindly violent, others are outright corrupt. Flying armed drones escort them and they never patrol alone.
 - The scientists secretly experiment on a selection of inmates, using a strange artifact, the Apparatus, that they don't completely understand. Phoenix has proven to be the key to unlock the full potential of the artifact. The scientists are the true masters of the prison. They wouldn't hesitate to drug, gas or psychically restrain the inmates to solve any problem.

AREAS OF FOCUS (ask questions about, drive forward)

- Everything and everyone in the Above.
- Visitors from the Above.
- Things that trickle down from the Above.
- The greed, hostility, and demands of the Above.
- The laws of the Above, which apply to Below-folk whether they make any sense down here or not.

SITUATION MOVES

Your Moves are:

- Describe the world.
- Create something new by asking a Question.
- Develop existing characters.
- Describe risks, opportunities, warning signs.
- Signal developing Threats.
- Directly threaten a character (but only after signalling the Threat or someone activating a Weakness).

When a Primary character does something risky or challenging, you can add Complications:

- How they fall short of their aim.
- A price they must pay to succeed.
- Unintended consequences.
- How they get more than they bargained for.

THE OUTSIDE

The Below is just one part of a space station, beyond the walls of which lie the vast reaches of space. The galaxy outside might seem distant at times, but then when you least expect it there will be a sudden and rude reminder that this place is just one mote floating in the storm of the galaxy.

The station bustles with people who come and go from outside. Off-duty soldiers rub shoulders with foreign diplomats, traders, smugglers, prospectors, and more. The bravest venture into the Below for adventures; and the more intrepid Below-folk may venture into the ports, looking for opportunities not available anywhere else.

Carceres is located in a red giant star system, next to a jump gate. Because it isn't fully self-sufficient, it needs food supplies and goods, which are delivered by spaceships. The station's close area is guarded by deadly automatic defense systems.

The Society of Shadows wants to kill Executioner, but wants to make it look like an accident. Their killteam consists of a small group of elite trained fighters and superbeings, equipped with invisibility cloaks and doppelgänger technology.

AREAS OF FOCUS (ask questions about, drive forward)

— Things found near the station

- ◇ Aliens and their technology.
- ◇ Celestial phenomena – comets, asteroids, radiation, space debris.
- ◇ Nearby planets and their inhabitants.
- ◇ The politics, trade, and warfare of the wider galaxy.

— Things that come and go from the station

- ◇ Spaceships!
- ◇ Travellers, traders, itinerant workers, smugglers.
- ◇ News and rumours from outside, and reactions to it.

SITUATION MOVES

Your Moves are:

- Unintended consequences.
- How they get more than they bargained for.

POVERTY

Food. Clean water. Work. Education. Law and Order. Hope. They're all in short supply, and sometimes lack of them stretches individuals and society to breaking point. It isn't possible for everyone to get what they need, and many people go without day after day.

Everyday life is built around fulfilling those basic needs. The Below hums with the activity of people scraping and scrounging and hustling to get by. But it still isn't enough. Even so, the human spirit finds ways to survive and prosper despite it all.

In Carceres, you have nothing left. No personal item, no weapon, no clothes, no privacy. And more importantly, no rights. You've been told when to sleep, when to eat, when to piss. Inmates have to work at the factory, the hospital or the kitchen. Lights are shut down for ten hours per artificial day. Even now, the inmates are fed up and angry, but they fear the consequences if they break the rules.

AREAS OF FOCUS (ask questions about, drive forward)

— Things people want or need, and ways to get them

- ◇ Infrastructure, resources, supplies, services.
- ◇ Freedoms, protections, privileges.
- ◇ Commerce, entrepreneurialism, work, crime.

— Lack and excess and responses to them

- ◇ Shortages, want, deprivation, homelessness.
- ◇ Gluts, privilege, wealth.
- ◇ Thrift, barter, sharing, jury-rigging.
- ◇ Despair, addiction, desperation, envy, rage and rioting.

Down in the Below, the law and order of the society Above is rarely enforced. In its place step those who are strong, feared, or respected enough to hold sway. Some gangs fancy themselves a bastion of civilisation in the Below, others are unashamedly criminal. It is dangerous to deal with the gangs. It may also be unavoidable.

The gangs also provide hope and direction for some. Aspiring young Below-folk can find belonging, a sense of purpose, status, and even a career in the arms of a gang.

There's no community in Carceres per se, but inmates need to close ranks to survive.

— The Wise is a gang of traditionalist criminals, with a mob boss at their head. They value honour among thieves but never forget their enemies. They have snitches everywhere and run a lot of the business in the prison: contraband, drugs, you name it. You'll always end up owing them debts.

— The Saarkalians are a group of crab-like aliens sharing a hivemind.

Most of the time, they can be seen meditating or communicating by thoughts. Their queen is one of the most wanted criminals of the galaxy, since she's decided to make her people operate outside the law.

AREAS OF FOCUS (ask questions about, drive forward)

- The gangs and those under their sway, their territory, their ways.
- The internal factions within the gangs.
- The enemies of the gangs.
- The rules – rational or self-serving – that the gangs hold to and enforce.
- Violence and the threat of violence, in all its forms.
- Dominance and displays of power.

SPIRITS

The world we see every day is only one aspect of the universe. Hidden just beyond sight, just beyond your hearing is a world of stranger things. With the right ritual and sacrifice you can speak to them, if you have ears to hear what they say. And sometimes they come right out and poke their noses into our affairs, subtly or blatantly.

Most people pay some attention to the spirit world through little acts of worship or placation. Some devote their lives to it. When times are hard, people turn ever more to the spiritual, looking for a sense of hope or peace that they can't find elsewhere. And there is nowhere harder than the Below.

The Apparatus can reveal powerful abilities in some individuals. But the Spirits, who are psychic lifeforms that can materialise in the prime world and take the appearance of one's memories, are extremely angry about what they consider to be a desecration. They're planning to take revenge and to destroy the Apparatus.

AREAS OF FOCUS (ask questions about, drive forward)

— Strange phenomena

- ◇ Spirits and other supernatural phenomena: miracles, curses, magic.
- ◇ Visions, omens, prophecies, dreams.
- ◇ Fortune, misfortune, fate.
- ◇ The hidden and the unexplained.

— The spirit-touched

- ◇ People who follow the spirits.
- ◇ Psychics, witches, priests, prophets, exorcists.

TEACHING GUIDE

When there's at least one person present who hasn't read the rules or played before, or if someone wants a refresh, take turns reading out each section of this guide and following the instructions in blue. After each section, pass the guide left unless the instructions say otherwise. You'll want a copy or two of the summary sheet in front of the group, too.

Flotsam is a game about outcasts, misfits and renegades living in the belly of a space station. We collectively imagine and describe what's happening in the fictional game world. Specifically, we'll focus on the everyday lives and relationships of the main characters. We'll also sometimes interrupt their lives with danger and strange events, but keeping it to a small scale so we don't distract too much from that main focus on relationships.

Each of us controls one Primary character, and explores their life and relationships. We'll also control one Situation – a constellation of threats and problems which we'll use to complicate the lives of the Primary characters. There are some rules – we'll get to them when we need them. But mostly, we just describe and narrate whatever occurs to us, one little step at a time, or talk in character, responding to what has already been described and narrated. We do this without lots of planning or thought. We're not trying to be cool or clever, or push a story. We're just inventing stuff that feels right to us. We'll often pick up stuff that others have invented and use that or build on that too.

READ THIS SECTION IF YOU ARE USING A QUICK-START SCENARIO

We're using a quick-start scenario, which means we get pre-generated characters and Situations instead of making them ourselves.

We'll start by choosing our Primary characters. Your Primary character is the main character you'll be playing in the game. The game as a whole is focused on the relationships between the Primary characters. This means it's important to portray our characters as real and human, as characters who the others can relate to and connect with. Their relationships needn't be all happy and problem-free, of course. Primary characters are most interesting when they start out flawed and imperfect, with relationships that can develop over time – that's where the meat of play is.

- Hand out the scenario Playbooks. Take turns to read out the italicised intro text at the top, then choose a Playbook each.

We'll now choose our Situations. A Situation is a broad constellation of threats and problems linked by a theme. We'll each choose one Situation to have lead responsibility for. We'll focus on playing our Situation when we're not playing our Primary character.

NOW LET'S TALK ABOUT HOW WE PLAY THROUGH A SCENE

It's a good idea to look at the rules summary sheet while we talk this through.

Most of the time, we just say what we think would happen. Situation players describe places and people, and say what those people say and do. People playing their Primary say what they're saying and doing. We respond to each other and the game moves forward. The rules kick in in two circumstances: when we want to bring in or advance threats to the Primary characters, or we want our Primary characters to take action that's risky or challenging.

Start by looking at Flowchart 1, which is labelled Threats and Weaknesses. This shows how we make bad stuff happen that the Primary characters aren't going to like. If you're playing your Situation, you'll introduce and develop potential threats – anything that looks like it might harm the Primary characters, or their allies, or their interests.

When you want to introduce a Threat, just like anything else in the game, you have to ask a Question to a specific other player. We don't say "the skeeviest establishment in the Below is Glassport"; we say "hey, Karen, what's the skeeviest establishment in the Below?"

Having introduced a Threat, you only advance it gradually, leaving the Primary characters the chance to intervene. So we don't say "you walk into Glassport and immediately get jumped by three scary looking goons", you say "three scary looking goons are standing by the bar. They all turn to look at you and reach for their weapons. What do you do?"

After that, if the Primary characters don't do anything – or if they do, but their action is ineffective – then the Threat manifests and we can directly threaten a Primary character. That's when the goons jump you.

When we're playing our Situations in this way, we try to keep things small-scale and leave space for conversation. This is a game about relationships and everyday life, not constant action.

So there's three steps: create a Threat by asking a question, develop it but leave space for the Primary characters to intervene, and then manifest the Threat if they don't. This sequence repeats itself. The goons jumped you, now what do you do? If you don't act, or if your action fails, maybe one of them shoots you. You're bleeding, now what do you do?

A Threat can also manifest if a Primary activates one of their Weaknesses. When you do that, you get a Token, which powers your Primary's Strengths. We'll talk about those in a minute. For now, just note that activating a Weakness means one of the other players will jump straight to manifesting a Threat, without giving you the chance to intervene.

Ok, now let's look at Flowchart 2, which is labelled Complications and Strengths. This shows what happens when the Primary characters take risky or challenging actions. Notice how it only happens if the action is risky or challenging – that means that most of the time we just describe what our Primary characters do, and the rules aren't needed at all. But if someone else thinks your actions are risky or challenging, they can add Complications; which might mean the character's actions are less effective, or costly, or even make things worse. The list of potential Complications is on your Situation sheet on the bottom right hand side.

Dealing with Complications and Threats is where Strengths come in. At any time, you can describe how you are using your Strength to tackle an emerging Threat or get stuff done, and spend a Token. When you do, not only can nobody introduce any Complications, but any Complications they already mentioned in relation to the current action are cancelled – they don't happen at all. You get full control over what happens, and can describe how you get what you want, free of outside interference.

You also have Scrutiny Questions on your Playbook. You can ask them any time you like, but the person responding can add Complications if they think it would be risky or challenging to get the answer, just like normal. This might include giving an incomplete answer. They do have to answer honestly, though. You can always spend a Token to get a full and helpful answer.

So that's three rules for when you're playing your Primary. Activating a Weakness gains you a Token, and causes a Threat to manifest without warning. Doing something risky or challenging means anyone can add Complications to your action. And spending a Token while using a Strength cancels any Complications added to your action, or gets you a straight answer when asking a Scrutiny Question.

That's all the rules that limit our actions during a scene. Is everyone ok with that? Are there any questions?

Ok, one last rule. This one's pretty simple: it's called Objecting. Like in a courtroom drama, when someone shouts "objection!" Any time someone describes or narrates something you think doesn't make sense, or breaks the rules, or contradicts something we've already established, or just feels wrong for the game, you can say "objection". There's a simple procedure for resolving Objections – we'll go through that when we come to it.

FACILITATOR, READ THIS SECTION:

It's time to frame our first scene. In each scene there will be one Focal Character that starts the scene in the spotlight, and we take turns to be Focal Character so everyone gets a fair share of scenes. There will be one person, called the Scene Framer, who decides where and when the scene will start, who is there, and what (if anything) is going on at the start. The Scene Framer is often the same as the Focal Character, but not always.

It's everyone's job to watch out for when it might be time to end a scene. Anyone can suggest at any time that the scene might be done. If anyone has something they still want to do, carry on – if not, the scene ends.

Who is Scene Framer, and what the scene is about, varies. As a summary, run through these steps, but skip step 1 on your first scene, and skip to step 3 for each Focal Character's first scene if you're planning to play more than one session:

- Is there something that obviously, burningly needs to happen in the next scene? If so, an appropriate person frames a scene around that.

- If the Focal Character wants to accomplish something or interact with someone, they frame a scene around that.
- If the Focal Character wants to activate a Weakness, or if a Situation Player wants to make trouble for them, then the person whose Situation will be causing trouble frames the scene around that.
- If nobody chose one of the above options, someone asks the Focal Character a Question about their everyday life, and the Focal Character frames a scene aimed at answering the Question.

FACILITATOR, WATCH OUT FOR SOMEONE DOING SOMETHING RISKY OR CHALLENGING. THE FIRST TIME THEY DO, READ THIS OUT:

Ok, [character] just did [say what they did]. I'd say that's [risky or challenging]. As a reminder, whenever someone does something we think is risky or challenging, it gives all of us the opportunity to add a Complication. A Complication is an extra limitation or cost added to the action. We decide individually what's risky or challenging.

Complications can stop an action from having full effect, impose a cost to succeed, or add unexpected consequences. So if you were fleeing from security agents I might say "sure, you can escape from them, but you'll have to leave your backpack behind" or "you can't outrun them for long, but you can beat them to Pop's Tavern and take shelter there if you want". The full list of Complications is on your Situation Sheet.

As a reminder, we don't always have to just sit there and take it when someone adds Complications. When you're doing something that uses one of your Strengths, you can spend a Token to cancel all Complications – you just get to describe what you want and nobody can interrupt.

FACILITATOR, YOU MAY ALSO WISH TO USE THIS TEXT WHEN SOMEONE USES A WEAKNESS FOR THE FIRST TIME

So you'd like to activate your Weakness. That's great. Activating a Weakness gets you a Token, but is also a clear signal to everyone at the table that you're ready for some trouble to come your way. If you don't really want any trouble right now then maybe look at other ways to get a Token – every Playbook includes a way that other characters can get Tokens – take a look at your fellow players' Playbooks and see.

Say what you're doing to activate your Weakness. Weaknesses come in two types: Flaws and Problems. If it's a Flaw, you'll have to do something to expose yourself to risk or danger, or to anger or alienate someone important. If it's a Problem, you don't have to take any action to make yourself vulnerable, unless you want to; but you can't be in a position that's entirely safe from your Problem.

You then ask another player to make trouble for you. By activating your Weakness, you've given them, and anyone else who wants to, permission to directly threaten you. Enjoy!

AT THE END OF THE FIRST SCENE, READ THIS BIT OUT

After every scene, we look back on the events of the scene to decide if any of the characters Displayed their Heart. What that means is, they let another character see their true self or their heartfelt feelings. A character can Display their Heart by how they talk, through their actions, or more subtle indications. They might do it deliberately or without meaning to.

Once someone Displays their Heart, it's up to the other character to decide what effect it had. Did it bring them closer together? Did it push them apart? Or did it change their relationship? If the answer to any of these questions is yes, then both characters get to Mark their Relationship. When the third box is Marked, you get to permanently improve your character.

You can also Mark your Weaknesses. That's a bit simpler – just ask yourself, did your Primary's Weakness cause any problems for them in the scene just gone. If you activated your Weakness during the scene the answer is likely yes! If your Weakness caused trouble for you, you get to Mark it even if you didn't activate it. Problems that only affect other characters don't count.

Finally, resolve any Special Moves on your Playbooks if you haven't already. Special Moves enable other characters to play to your character's strengths, and they get a Token for doing so. You don't get a Token, but you do get to Mark your Relationship with them.
